What is Reverse Transfer?

UCF students who earned 30 or more credits at CF, DSC, EFSC, LSSC, SSC, or VC and have transferred to UCF without an associate's degree may "Reverse Transfer" the earned credits from UCF and combine those credits earned at the state college to complete an associate's degree. This process makes it possible for students to earn an associate's degree as they continue to work toward completing their bachelor's degree at UCF without any jeopardy to their status at UCF.

What are the benefits of Reverse Transfer?

- An earned AA degree from a DirectConnect™ to UCF partner completes the UCF General Education Program (GEP).
- Better job opportunities while completing your bachelor's degree at UCF and both degrees on a resume demonstrate broader skills and training.
- The associate's degree is the nation's fastest growing work credential; employers recognize its value when recruiting and hiring.
- Students who complete their associate's degree are more likely and more motivated to complete their bachelor's degree.
- Sense of accomplishment and completion!
- There is no risk—even though hours earned at UCF are applied toward the associate's degree, the hours earned at UCF still apply toward the bachelor's degree.

Frequently Asked Questions

Am I guaranteed a degree from my state college?

No. The state college will evaluate the courses taken at UCF and determine if they, with those already taken at the state college, meet the requirements for graduation.

How much does Reverse Transfer cost?

There may be some costs associated with Reverse Transfer. The UCF transcript will be sent to the state college free of charge when requested by the state college. There may also be additional courses required to meet the associate degree requirements.

Which associate degree am I eligible for?

Meet with an advisor at the state college to discuss the degree options.

Can I take the required courses at UCF or must I return to my state college?

Courses may be taken at UCF if the courses required for the associate's degree are available at UCF.

Do I need to be currently enrolled at my state college?

No, meet with a state college advisor to determine which courses may still be required to complete the associate's degree.

Can I participate in my state college graduation ceremony after earning my degree?

Earning a degree is a major accomplishment! Your state college advisor will assist with completion of necessary applications for graduation.

Am I guaranteed an associate degree if my university major is the same as the degree offered by my state college?

No. An associate's degree will be awarded if the combined UCF and state college credits satisfy the degree requirements, and all graduation requirements are met.
